

Arts funding provides creative solutions

Artists developing their careers, artform or products and community groups improving their skills or undertaking a creative project can apply for funding under Sunshine Coast Regional Council's Regional Arts Development Fund (RADF) Grants Program.

Council's RADF program provides financial support to local residents and community for a wide variety of arts and cultural projects. Grants can cover up to seventy percent of a project's total costs.

Council is running free RADF information sessions in the week 15 - 19 February at Nambour, Maroochydore, Cooroy and Maleny. The sessions will include tips on how to prepare a good application.

In addition, RADF application clinics will be held at Nambour, Noosa, Caloundra and Coolum from the 2nd March. Potential applicants can give themselves the best chance of success by making a booking to meet with Council's RADF Liaison officer and, together, work through their draft application.

The next funding RADF closes on 15 March 2010!
